Feat. Nastala

Rewrite our history
I know you're listening
It's time we all stand up
I know the recipe

A chance is all we got
Then we must have a lot
Don't stand behind the line
To start this to decline

And if you knew the things I see
Would you give in and let it be?
The words you speak, you're first to hear
So choose them well, make it sincere

And if it's true the things I see
Should I give in and let you be?
The words I speak, I'm first to hear
The choice is mine to make this clear

Identify yourself
With more than what you've felt
The memories we keep
Won't lay us down to rest
If faith is all we got
Then we must have a lot
Don't stand behind the line
To start this to decline

And if you knew the things I see
Would you give in and let it be?
The words you speak, you're first to hear
So choose them well, make it sincere

And if it's true the things I see
Should I give in and let you be?
The words I speak, I'm first to hear
The choice is mine to make this clear
