"Bones"

Don't know how to cherish love
Just to tarnish up in rust
Can't fight for a lovers trust
Just destroy and throw it in the mud
Can't find hope in little things
Oh, my foolish heart
Will sing a song of better days

Give me back control
Give me back my heart my soul
And I wrote, "oh, she's on a roll"
Give me back my heart and set my bones

People say that feelings change
Or that love just fades away
But to me it's all the same
If you aren't here now then you never loved me
I think on yesterday
Or the day you got up
And you just walked away

Give me back control
Give me back my heart my soul
And I wrote, "oh, she's on a roll"
Give me back my heart and set my bones

Give me the power, then give me the shame
Give me the courage, then take it away
Take a shot in the dark, hit a boy with no name
Straight to the heart then turn away

Give me back control
Give me back my heart my soul
And I wrote, "oh, she's on a roll"
Give me back my heart and set my bones
