And you watch me closely and you mold me softly
And I know that you loved me by the way that you spoke
And you always had hope
Well today I fell down but I used the strength I found in you.

All this makes life worth living

Change what you need to change
Cause the memories fray
And the pictures will fade
Change what you need to change
Cause tomorrow the wind
Might just blow you away

Well I'm taken by this place
Surrounded by your face
Is it wrong to want out
Of this house filled with doubt
Well hello can you hear me
When I talk well if so talk back to me

All this makes life worth living

Change what you need to change
Cause the memories fray
And the pictures will fade
Change what you need to change
Cause tomorrow the wind
Might just blow you away

And I'll just say good night
For this one final time
Oh my hope is I'll see you
When I sleep when I die
I miss you - it wasn't your time

Change what you need to change
Cause the memories fray
And the pictures will fade
Change what you need to change
Cause the gold autumn days

Fade to cold winter grey

Change what you need to change
Cause the memories fray
And the pictures will fade
Change what you need to change
Cause tomorrow the wind
