My heart's still beating fast this time
And I can't get you off my mind tonite
My gaze is fixed upon those eyes
Watching closely as you sleep
Finding out what you mean to me, oh
I guess it all just goes to show

That you never really know
When this life is gonna guide you home
And it seems I've found the road
To put me where you are
Into your arms

Captivated when you speak
Just your words, they comfort me
Our future may be closer than we think
We're not holding back this time

I've got you now it's our story to write
Oh, I guess it all just goes to show

That you never really know
When this life is gonna guide you home
And it seems I've found the road
To put me where you are
Into your arms

You never really know
When this life is gonna guide you home
And it seems I've found the road
To put me where you are
Into your arms
To put me where you are
Into your arms
