3 am my phone is ringing and you're waiting on the line for me waking up your body's shaking didn't know what to say can you handle this tonight

drunk and dreamy
is love holding up your sight see right through me
so far we've come
can you walk away

and im standing at your door now pictures rushing through my head of you holding hands means so much more now fate is watching you

see right through me now
so far we've come

and its you in my mirror and its you staring back at me and its you in these headlights and its your face i see rpt chorus to end
