Hate to leave you on the line while the tears roll down your face is there nothing i can say you're breaking in front of me and i cant do anything can i reach you through this haze

all im asking is you stay positive my heart is racing for you now
breathing in and breathing out things are gonna change this year you'll see when you open up your eyes the blood is running through your veins hear me now and sunlight shine upon your face

all im asking is you stay positive

hold on hold on im right here waiting
hold on hold on im here for you step into life
you'll like it down here come down with me
its good for you
