That little girl knows a lot about cheating
Caught him red handed too many times
She knows a lot about lying and leaving
Never had someone who really walked the line

I'm gonna change that
That girl won't be lonely long
I'm gonna change that
She's gonna know where she belongs
Right now she thinks her heart's just made for breakin'
But I'm gonna change that

She knows a little too much about teardrops
Cried her a mile wide river of them
All that bad luck's got her thinking she's star crossed Always long gone, over 'fore it ever begins

I'm gonna change that
That girl won't be lonely long
I'm gonna change that
She's gonna know where she belongs
Right now she thinks her heart's just made for breakin'
But I'm gonna change that

She don't know it yet but I'm already hers for the taking
And right now she thinks her heart's just made for breakin'

I'm gonna change that
That girl won't be lonely long
I'm gonna change that
No more humming them heartache songs
Honey I'm gonna change that You're gonna know where you belong
That it's right here with me
By my side
Forget about those tears you cried
Honey I'm gonna change that

Oh I'm gonna change that
