[The Plague]

Humanity is a parasite feeding of the earth
Destroying it's own habitat sucking all life dry Civilisation's a cancer reaching out it's polluted grasp Leaving no corner untouched killing all that lives

[Chorus:]

People have lost their ability
To live in harmony with the earth
Now they're only mindless cells
Spreading a terminal disease

Living in our own excrement's become a part of daily life
Distracted by useless products to forget the pain Reward the leaders who tell you how nice it is Again and again and again they stab you in the back

Suffocating in our own shit has become a part of daily
Creating celebrities to forget our own dreary lives
While fueling the desire to dominate
We breathe the ashes of our hopes and dreams

[Mirror Image]

From the day I was born I was told things were this way
Why I have leaders and why I must obey
I was led to believe what they say is fact
To trust those who told me and never answer back
They told me I had freedom but never how much To question their own existence was never brought up Everything's the opposite of what you're taught in school
Conditioning, not learning, is the job they're there to do
I see the shit so clearly, but how can I explain Thoughts and ideas that have never entered their brains
