

Christel Vars

"Where Are We Going"

Visit "Where Are We Going" on MotoLyrics.com

One day i leaned my head back looked at the stars, so many of them i asked if there was an answer for me
i dared to ask if there was
an answer for me
or if i would always wonder about it all

then i was only seventeen, grew up wondering what was above us, in between what it meant to me now, i'm a bit older, still have the same questions about humanity and where where we're going

one day i switched on the tv started wondering what there was above us, in between what we all meant to it i switched it off

left the house ran far but still found the same questions about fraternity and where
where we're going

and then sometimes a human disaster makes you stop wondering what's above us, what's in between what our lives mean to it and then we find it deep within ourselves the strength to love and really care such a shame it's always too late we all know

where we're going
where we're going

Visit Christel Vars page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.