Angels are dancing in my head again
And it keeps my walking pace a little faster than
What it used to be
'Cause she found me
Now there's dancing in my head
Am I crazy?
Well, yes, I am
I don't think that it seems really all that strange
When I'm skipping down the road singin' her name
But if you could see her walk across a crowded room
Then you would understand why i go insane
The way she glistens in the moonlight
The way she outshines the star brighter than any sun
Well angels are singing in my head again
And I don't mind saying that sometimes I understand
I'm writing this lullaby
The coyotes cry
Well, they're singing in my head
Am I crazy?
Well, yes, I am
And I don't think that it seems really all that strange
When I'm outside doing cartwheels in the rain
But if you could see her walk across a crowded room
Then would understand why i go insane
The way she glistens in the moonlight
The way she outshines the star brighter than any sun
Oh, then I tell you man well, yeah
Well, I just can't get enough
'Cause I'm
Crazy in Love
And I don't think that it seems really all that strange
When I'm skipping down the road singin' her name
But if you could see her walk across a crowded room
Then you would understand why I go insane
Yeah
Well, angels are laughing in my head again
I can see them laughing but I just don't give a damn
'Cause see it's you and me
Well, she ought to be
And there's angels in her head
Am I in love?

Yes, I am
C'mon!
Woo!
