Tell me what have we done to this beautiful world
This place isn't safe anymore
Tell me what has happened to our innocent children
I don't see them on the streets anymore

What has happened to the prayers of our fathers
Where has love gone between sisters and brothers
What is going to happen to the next generation
Who is going to rise up and declare

It's time to give
It's time to pray
It's time to lay our lives down for another
It's time to rise up and shine
A holy light into the darkness
It's time love and to obey
And to live what we believe in
It's time to lend a helping hand
To a dying world in need

What has happen to compassion
Who's going to stand up for the soul of man
Who's going to build a bridge across these troubled waters
Lift up holy hands and declare

It's time to give
It's time to pray
It's time to lay our lives down for another
It's time to rise up and shine
A holy light into the darkness
It's time love and to obey
And to live what we believe in
It's time to lend a helping hand
To a dying world in need

Oh how beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news
Oh how wonderful they are
Oh how beautiful are the feet of those who bring good
news
