It fades a little in the sun loses glimmer in the run
I pull out, it pulls me in comes across me once again
Not on my own, but without you
I'm on my own, not without you
Do you hear the bells ringing?
Do you feel the sky blacken?
By the bird's, it's only blood, it's only skin Only lust, only love, only been Since the past is going to die anyway, step aside, let it die here today
As the sun, as the sun, as the sun
As the sun smashes into our city of winter night and the words,
confession, wait around and take to flight
Now I know my love, oh I know, my love
Oh, i know my love
Now I know, my love
