I wanted you to need me
and I wanted to need you
But the days they proved different:
took action for truth
It's plain it wasn't in the cards for you and for me
'cause you can't live off laughter and luxury

When you couldn't be loved you were left with feared Passed admiration contempt is reared Considered all the things i had with you Considered all the things i had to do

I wanted you to need me
and I wanted to need you
But the days they proved different:
took action for truth
It's plain it wasn't in the cards
for you and for me
'cause you can't live
off laughter and luxury

You spin your web of sorrow and dreams Your life's a poem, or so it seems One too many drunken nights,
One too many unfeathering fights

I wanted you to need me
and I wanted to need you
But the days they proved different:
took action for truth
It's plain it wasn't in the cards
for you and for me
'cause you can't live
off laughter and luxury

So move on, move in, move out There's a light that lurks in the shadows of doubt Carry on, carry in, carry out In this action is what you carry about

So I found a girl who needed me and you know I need her too And it's plain that it's all in the cards for her and for me
'cause you cant live off love, laughter and luxury Yes, you can live like poppies and peonies
