I pushed myself back I'm backed in a corner
My mind is drowning and I'm going under I'm sick of all the fear and all the doubt I feel
Here and now I'm letting you take over

Oh I'll push it away I won't let it stay
I can't let this feeling linger
Now I see with new eyes
I won't let the lies keep me down any longer

This is the point where I turn it over
Thought I would get here sooner than later
I'll fall into your hands I'm following your plan
And this is where the book would say it's the end

Oh I'll push it away I won't let it stay
I can't let this feeling linger
Now I see with new eyes
I won't let the lies keep me down any longer

The road is long and I won't quit
You gave me strength just for this
The road is long and I won't quit
Your grace is a banner over it

Oh I'll push it away I won't let it stay
I can't let this feeling linger
Now I see with new eyes
I won't let the lies keep me down any longer

Oh I'll push it away I won't let it stay
I can't let this feeling linger
Now I see with new eyes
I won't let the lies keep me down any longer

Push it away
Push it away

Keep me, keep me
Keep me from going crazy
