Looking at the world, I see a need for peace
I want to change the course of history
I see the heavy souls, praying for relief
A song for the broken we will sing

There's a light shining brighter than the sun
There's a love that can't be broken
And heaven's coming down, coming down

I move within in your veins, an apathetic face
Try to recreate a beautiful escape
Our silence is weak, an epidemic on repeat
Love holds the cure for all humanity, yeah

There's a light shining brighter than the sun
There's a love that can't be broken
A Savior giving hope to the world
Heaven is coming down, coming down

Blessed are the weak
When we're down on our knees
Heaven is singing, heaven is singing, blessed

Blessed are the weak
When we're down on our knees
Heaven is singing, heaven is singing
A song for the broken

Yeah, there's a light shining brighter than the sun
There's a love that can't be broken
A Savior giving hope to the world
Now it is coming down, coming down, yeah
