Sometimes when I'm sitting on my bed feeling so, so lonely
Wishing someone'd hold me
All I had three little notes playing in my head
Outside I can cover all the scars
Inside lie the words just pleading to be heard cause
All I have is three million melodies to just kill the hurt

And now I'm ready I'm going to sing them all out
Sing them out just for myself
I don't even care what the world thinks bout how I sound

Cause when I open my mouth
My whole heart comes out
Every tear I want to cry is satisfied
I'm singing till I'm winning
I going to sing all night

Cause when I open my mouth
There is no place to hide
Everything that I've been feeling runs wild and free
Singing cause I'm winning
I'm going to sing for me

I stand in believing who I am
Take shots at my heart, but who am I to give a
Everybody needs a melody to set their souls free
My stage is the greatest in the world
Give back to the ones who struggled with me, stayed true
Reminding me to see my chosen destiny

And now I'm ready I'm going to sing it all out
Sing it out just for myself
I don't even care what the world thinks bout how I sound

Cause when I open my mouth
My whole heart comes out
Every tear I want to cry is satisfied

I'm singing till I'm winning
I going to sing all night

Cause when I open my mouth
There is no place to hide
Everything that I've been feeling runs wild and free
Singing cause I'm winning
I'm going to sing for me

Sing for me,
Sing for myself, sing how I believe
Right here, right now, let the wave come down

Sing for me,
Sing for myself, sing how I believe
Let my heart, heart come out
Right here, right now, let me own my very own sound

Cause when I open my mouth
My whole heart comes out
Every tear I want to cry is satisfied
I'm singing till I'm winning
I going to sing all night

Cause when I open my mouth
There is no place to hide
Everything that I've been feeling runs wild and free
I'm singing cause I'm winning
I'm going to sing for me
