Should I let you in
Into my house with its concrete walls?
Should I let you in
Into my room with its curtains drawn?

I want to open up
And let you walk right through my door
Can you tell me is it worth the risk anymore?
Should I let you in?

Should I let you in?
Should I let you in?
Should I let you in?

Should I let you in
Into my far from perfect place?
Should I let you see
Where I keep my secrets safe?

I want to open up
But I've been hurt this way before
Can you tell me is it worth the risk anymore?
Should I let you in?

Should I let you in?
Oh baby, won't you tell me now
Should I let you in?
Baby, tell me now
Should I let you in?

Well, through my window
I see you now
You're looking in, I'm looking out
My heart will make up, my mind somehow

Should I let you in, into my house?
Should I let you in, inside these walls?
Should I let you in, into my heart?
Should I let you in, inside my world?

Should I let you in?
Oh baby, won't you tell me now

Should I let you in?
Baby, tell me now
Should I let you in?
Into my heart

Should I let you in?
Into my world
Should I let you in?
Should I let you in?
Baby, tell me now

Should I let you in?
Should I let you in?
