Verse 1: This world, itself, is in a state of confusion
But, somehow, you think in it, you can find a solution?
Searching for the answers to questions that only I know
Remedies to heal your aching body and to soothe your soul.

But why are you wasting time
Searching the world for meaning
When I hold the answers in my hands?
This world's no mystery when it's truth is revealed
Yet, you'd chose it over me instead.

Chorus: Free your mind
There's no other help you can find
Free your mind
So stop searching for answers in lies
Free your mind
Leave all your cares behind
And let me take you high
Stop wasting your time
Just free your mind.

Verse 2: Your past seems so dim, your future so bleak
You tried all you knew, only to end up tired and weak
So you worry and stress about your current condition
Hoping that your future for your past,
Can somehow provide a redemption.

But why hold out any hope
On desolate dreams
Hoping that they'll bring success in the end?
Why not put your trust in me
And I'll give your purpose
After all, I've seen the past and know what's ahead.

Chorus: Free your mind
There's no other help you can find
Free your mind
So stop searching for answers in lies
Free your mind
Leave all your cares behind
And let me take you high

Stop wasting your time
Just free your mind.

Bridge: Maybe you've forgotten just who I am
I am creator of all things
I'm greater than your problems- every circumstance
Just free your mind
And fly high on my wings.

Verse 3: Freedom, it seems to be, so far away
So you work to gain that freedom of tomorrow
Under the chains of today
Bound by a pain that never seems to seize
Burdened by a load that doesn't grant relief
But why be a victim of captivity
Bound by the chains of your cares?
Just give me permission, and I'll set you free
And lift that heavy load that you bear.

Chorus: Free your mind
There's no other help you can find
Free your mind
So stop searching for answers in lies
Free your mind
Leave all your cares behind
And let me take you high
Stop wasting your time
Just free your mind.

Verse 4: Just release the pain that holds you captive
Every care that weighs you down
Release the fear that holds you hostage
Break the chains that keep you bound

And you can fly, fly, fly, fly, fly, fly
Go ahead and fly
Go ahead and fly
Fly, fly, fly, fly, fly, fly
