"You"

Though I hold
These words for you
Deep inside of my Heart
I hope they will reach you Someday

The sun is rising higher
Like the pounding beat of my heart
I'd fill the intense fire
But I don't know where to start

This Rocking me sensation
I then began to see
This everlasting emotion
That just won't let me free

I don't know whether Fate brought us together
When we met for the very first time before
Maybe coincidence
Maybe Chance or something more

I thank God
For the time that I can spend beside you
Standing By your side forever
Til' our days are through
I'm content with gazing at your smile
so subline
From this moment until the End of Time
The times that
Bind us together throughout the lives we've met
Give us strength
Persevere
No matter what lies ahead

Though I hold
These words for you
Deep inside of my Heart
I hope they will reach you Someday
