Are you troubled more
With your paranoia
I will only tell you truth, I'll only tell you what I really mean

Do you hear my words
Or are they lost in this room with the tv
I can only compete once more with dynamic closed-off apathy

Do you really want to take another look
Do you really want to take another look

I'm so uninspired with the questioning
If you don't trust me now how can we ever love more freely
Do you want to have more of me
Do you want to have more of me
Do you want to love more of me

Are you troubled with The feelings you let slip
When will you tell if you really want us to feel steady symmetry

Do you really want to take another look
Do you really want to take another look

If you don't trust me now how can we ever love more
freely
Do you want to have more of me
Do you want to have more of me
Do you want to love more of me
