How I miss that Old Fashioned Christmas!
Carols being sung by the tree, Window's candlelight shining bright for the whole world to see Children's eyes of sweet expectations

Wondering what each present will hold Lying in their beds and impatient On long Christmas Eves of old
It used to be that all the family would gather for this one night
It used to be that special feeling shared together knowing Christmas was here one night a year

How I miss that Old Fashioned Christmas!
Memories that last through the years
Call me sentimental
