Times been wasted and I, wasted away. Suffocating anything, wanted to say times been wasted and I wasted my words buried deep beneath my silence times been wasted and I think I might have something to say I could tell you baby, but you know that I never meant it that way.

Times been wasted and I wish I could explain anything thing cause it's not like I've forgotten its just Ive forgotten how its not like Ive been lost oh, I can finally find my way out.

I wont use my mouth to open up your eyes. and, hold them theres so long now that you bein to cry, oh.

Ive got a few more things that I wish made a little more sense a whole big long list of stuff I wish cost a whole lot less. Im quite positive now that I would give it all up today for one more shot, for one more chance, for one more time around this dance.

It's not like I've forgotten , its just Ive forgotten how its not like Ive been lost oh I can find my way out . I would use my mouth to open up your eyes and, hold them they're so long now that you begin to cry.

If you had the time would you spend it with me, just think about it baby, think about it a little but harder than maybe cause, you know better than anybody else how to read between my words, my words.

I would use my mouth to open up your eyes. Hold them they're so long now that you bein to cry. I would use my mouth to open up your eyes, hold them they're so long now that you begin to cry
