Mary jo, sitting alone
Drinking tea, she just got home
She wants, I don't know what you want
Mary jo, living alone
Drinking gin with the telly on
She wants The night to follow
day and back again
She doesn't want to sleep
Well who could blame her if she wants?
The night to follow
day and back again
She doesn't want to sleep
Well who could blame her, if she sleeps?
Well who could blame her, if she sleeps?
Well who could blame her, if she's sleeping?
Mary jo, back with yourself
For company, keep telling yourself you're young
It'll happen soon
Mary jo, no one can see
What you've been through
Now you've got love to burn
It's someone else's turn to go through hell
Now you can see them come from twenty yards
Yeah you can tell
It's someone else's turn to take a fall
And now you are the one who's strong enough to help them
The one who's strong enough to help them
The one who's strong enough to help them all
Mary jo, you're looking thin You're reading a book, the state I am in But oh, it doesn't help at all
What you want is a cigarette
And a thespian with a caravanette in hull
Because life is never dull in your dreams
A pity that it never seems to work the way you see it
Life is never dull in your dreams
A sorry tale of action and the men you left for Women, and the men you left for Intrigue, and the men you left for dead
