Theres a time for everything and everything has its own reason/
even when u stop believin and ur heart just starts bleeding/
ur lungs just stop breathin, why? you dont even kno/theres just somethings in this life that we can never control/
so where we suppose to go, when we lost and blinded by/
the samething that made us smile is now making us
cry/
and its hard to get by, when i dont have what is mine/it took a long set of years, to finally find.../ an answer to a question that i never seemed to ask/n its funny how now we can both smile at our past/although im wearing this mask, trust me im hurting heavy/
behind this forced smile is a heart that aint steady/but whats done is done alrdy, dont forget a single thing/
cuz its betta to kno then living without us knowing/but i do regret the fact i could of been so much better/however, always kno what was real n whats forever/even if it aint together, we done been though this before/
seperated down the middle for like 3 years or 4/n i see it as a test, see its all part of the game/but how can something make u smile while it brings so much pain/
almost driving u insane, figure out the rights and wrongs/
the only reason why im sitting here writing this song/n i accepted the decision even though its hurts me to/but this love cannot be greedy wen i want wats best for u/
