Here comes the time!

It is a troubled time
As we knew that it would come.
Just because life,
Is not always fun.

When you woke up this morning
You tried to find things
That help you to survive.
But nothing comes to your mind
Like every time.

And you feel so bored,
You would like to forget this.
This lifetime.
But do you ignore the way to escape this?

Believe what I am saying now.

Everything that you have to feel
Is the way to start things as it was the beginning.
This is for real.
It seems like a brand new life that you can control every side.
You would better try.

We all need a chance
To begin our life again.

That is another birth, that is a new beginning,
But a way to survive in another world
In which we believe in.

Go take your chance and forget everything.

Everything that you have to feel
Is the way to start things as it was the beginning.
This is for real.
It seems like a brand new life that you can control every
side.
You would better try.

Forget these wasted years you have spent.
Regret these times you were upset.

Everything that you have to feel
Is the way to start things as it was the beginning.
And this is for real.
It is like a brand new life and you can control every side of this great Lie.
You would better try.
