(Chorus):

Red and yellow black and white
All are one within the Light

Lines of colour drawn over time do I stop to see what they do to my mind I've got to reach deep inside take control and look beyond these colour walls I've built in my soul

If you judge me by my outside then can someone judge yours too?
Is the way you look a picture of what's inside of you?

(Repeat Chorus)

We inherit prejudice from the past personal is the only way that will last my own goal is to become colour blind and break down any barriers I've learned in my life

(Repeat Chorus)

White sees black as criminally minded black sees asian as racially blinded asian sees Jew as money motivated Jew sees white hoods, white robed hatred around and around but it stops when I found my own racist mind be free take me one step closer to equality

(Repeat Chorus)
