One more time defying what
Was once believed a seamless bond
Both my hands with a strong grip
To the shooting star's tail
As I run to the gleaming light
I see no one taking that leap with me
I see no one

Not yet ready for goodbyes
But I'm tired pretending that I'm alright
Not yet ready for goodbyes
But I'm tired pretending that I'm alright

An oath we took, a promise made
To give our all to whatever has been
Thrown our way
I guess we've lost it all
We're not the same persons anymore
Missing all that was left behind
Missing all that was swept away by time
Stolen by time

Not yet ready for goodbyes
But I'm tired pretending that I'm alright
Not yet ready for goodbyes
But I'm tired pretending that I'm alright

[Instrumental]

Not yet ready for goodbyes
But I'm tired pretending that I'm alright
Not yet ready for goodbyes
But I'm tired pretending that I'm alright...
That I'm alright...

I just wanna hear you say
"Come here. I'll heal your scars now.
Stay here. We'll make it work now."
"Come here. I'll heal your scars now.
Stay here. We'll make it work now."
