I wrote a letter on a nothing day
I asked someone, ?Could you send my letter away??
You are too young to put all of your hopes
In just one envelope

I said goodbye to someone that I love
It's not just me, I tell you it's the both of us
And it was hard like coming off the pill
That you take to stay happy

Someone above has seen me do alright
Someone above is looking with a tender eye
Upon your face, you may think you're alone
But you may think again

If I could do just one near perfect thing I'd be happy They'd write it on my grave, or when they scattered my
ashes
On second thoughts I'd rather hang around
And be there with my best friend if she wants me

And far away somebody read the letter
He condescends to read the words I wrote about him
And if he smiles, it's no more than a genius deserves
For all your curious nerve and your passion

I'm going deaf, you're growing melancholy
Things fall apart, I don't know why we bother at all
But life is good and it's always worth living
At least for a while

If I could do just one near perfect thing I'd be happy
They'd write it on my grave, or when they scattered my
ashes
On second thoughts I'd rather hang around
And be there with my best friend if she wants me

If you think to yourself, ?What should I do now??
Then take a baton, girl, you better run with it
'Cause there is no point in standing in the past
'Cause it's over and done

I took a book and went into the forest
I climbed the hill, I wanted to look down on you
But all I saw was twenty miles of wilderness
So I went home

If I could do just one near perfect thing I'd be happy They'd write it on my grave, or when they scattered my
ashes
On second thoughts I'd rather hang around
And be there with my best friend if she wants me

If I could do just one near perfect thing I'd be happy They'd write it on my grave, or when they scattered my
ashes
On second thoughts I'd rather hang around
And be there with my best friend if she wants me
She wants me, yeah, she wants me, yeah, if she wants me, yeah
