Half a cell half a throne
Iâ€™ll do just fine all alone
Half a smile half a frown
Iâ€™ll get by on my own

Iâ€™m hanging up my woes to drip dry
Let the sadness pass me by
Till it goes away
Lonely togetherness
Is what we always did best
But still I miss you just the same

Getting over the fairy tale
Iâ€™ll take my money from the wishing well
And spend it on something true
Walking away from this
Give me something more than loneliness
And someday Iâ€™ll find someone new

Iâ€™m in the middle of an empty bed
Conversations playing in my head
All we never chose to say
Wearing your favorite shirt
Trying to numb the hurt
Waiting for the night to swallow day

Iâ€™m hanging up my woes to drip dry
Let the sadness pass me by
Till it goes away
Lonely togetherness
Is what we always did best
But still I miss you just the same
