the moment arrives and the words they fade leaving only sensation and I've got some slow jam pleasure from motown vibes ooh and they do me so wonderful sometimes you just got to keep lost away a strange land that needs to be explored that's where you encounter the truth bathed in a golden light desire will become insatiable and I don't go around wanting every day to be this way It's just my nature to enjoy being encompassed by all the elements of pleasure sunshine daydreams of this life they are the essence of your time

the moment arrives and the words they fade leaving only the sensation to blaze your way

I know what you see Every little day your gone
I know what you see
And I know what you're headed for
I know what you see
Every little way you go

And I got you with my soul blast

Keeps me at a distance (repeat)

got you with my soul blast (repeat)
