The sun is shining it's early morning, I get out of my bed
Go brush me teeth and fix my hair, the day has started
In a good mood put on my shoes and walk out of the door,
I don't know what to do with this life anymore

I get into my car go pick up my girl,
Twist one up and then go to the beach,
Grab my board and feel the sand on my feet,
I look at the waves and I crave, this freedom

This feelings got me in a trance,
Getting high off blissful ignorance,
This feelings got me happy the way life is...

It's 3 o'clock the sun is hot as it slowly dies down,
The shade of night, sure feels nice, as we drive town to town,
Fortune I know, but not do I own, I don't have a dollar to lend,
Just my passion, my music, that's all that's true in the end.

I step outta' my door, "man I'm so fucking high"
... not off jane, but all the aspects of life,
This summer breeze, "man it sure feels nice"
I look at the waves and I crave, this freedom

This feelings got me in A Trance,
To hell with you and your riches,
This feelings got me happy the way life is...

The moon is blinding, the night is calling,
I climb back into bed,
Pull up the sheets, and lay my head
And start it over again
