Scented pain and seperation
Defies the physics and the form
That life must to exist consume and be reborn
Why is this strange attraction
A call to arms with my destiny?
What choice or course of action?
Will you leave a path for me

Love laced with tragedy
A sense of agony
Why can't I feel love as in a fairy tale?
My world is growing stale
And now I've lost this... love

Systematicly paralyzed from the soul out towards the eyes
What I feel I have no traction to hold or realize Winking into motivation
I do not trust the things I've seen
And now these lost and found sensations want to devour me.

Love laced with tragedy
A sense of agony
Why can't I feel love as in a fairy tale?
My heart is growing frail
And now I've lost this... love
