I'll finish this jigsaw
I'll find the pieces behind the couch
I dream we were slow dancing
I dream I knew your name

Between sleep and waking
We're drinking flavored vodka in bed
And when I wake
I'm all the King's horses and all King's men

I make wild laughing rivers
From streams
No one can hear my screams

I threw my eyes to heaven
And I asked for a sign
They said I can get back my yesterday
If I cross the date line

But I'm sick of all this hope
Sometimes the stars are not enough
I'm sick of all this hope
Sometimes the stars are too much

From streams
No one can hear my screams

Quite please
