One, two, three, four
Love is cold, love is hot
It depends what you've got
On your mind for a lot of the time
It's never too late if you wait
For the right situation

Get it right, get it wrong
And you gotta be strong
To hang on 'til you know you belong
You're ready and hot, but you're not
In the right situation

And well I know you've been a victim of circumstance
You wouldn't wanna throw away a new romance
Then you get attention with a second glance
Give it a break, give it half a chance
It depends how you play
What you do when you say
You know Rome wasn't built in a day
You're taking your time 'til you're finding
The right situation

In the end on the phone

With your feet on the ground
And a love that you found was your own
You'll get it tonight if you fight
For the right situation

Though you've been a victim of circumstance
You wouldn't wanna throw away a new romance
Then you get attention with a second glance
Give it a break, give it a chance

Love is cold, love is hot
It depends what you've got
On your mind for a lot of the time
It's never too late if you wait
For the right situation

You're ready and hot but you're not
In the right situation
You're taking your time 'til you're finding
The right situation
You'll get it tonight if you fight
For the right situation
