

The Beloved "Allure"

Hold close now, it's your only assurance
Of controlling the outcome of this ending
Is it ending or just leaving us tired and waiting?

You're chasing the reasons, revolving in circles
Of questions we've all tried to answer for ourselves
The answer's already inside us, just listen

Maybe, you'll find
And the answer you don't want to hear
It's only your diversion that keep it away

Just open up your eyes to see
Just open up your eyes to see
Finally you'll understand, to fill this void
Empty out entirely what's standing now
