

The Beloved "Physical Love"

I like the freedom of the early morning
I like the tension of the innocent time
I'd like to hold you as the day is dawning
I'd like to get you somewhere you can be mine

Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love

I like the sharing of some deep emotion
I like the feelings that you're making me feel
I like the notion of your body motion
I'd like to thank you just for making it real

Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love

Well I, I get a very strange sensation
At night, I like to swim against the tide
Oh I, I can't hold this sense of expectation
That I, oh, I get for one night, one night by your side

I'll take you diving in the deepest of oceans
I'll take you bathing in a river of love
I'll take you anywhere, anyway you want to Take you on a journey to the heavens above

Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, your physical love

Giving me love, your physical love
Giving me love, yeah, physical love
