(there's no excuse) and that's the reason why i feel (angry confused) angry and confused why would you kill a man you realize, (you realize you've loaded that gun before) you'll never understand why it's so hard to have compassion for you i'll never comprehend why there's a system

that's misleading and untrue
a system that's misleading and untrue someone send a message out to justice 'cause i'm calling out it's name i never had to think about it if you were here i could almost picture the expression on your face they always find a way around it (you waved away) responsibility you never (dug his grave) took it seriously and now he's dead but you're still here but sometimes life just isn't fair

it seems absurd he's off scott free instead of life he gets a year to three it's not rectified it's the same fucking thing to me
