finally i see your plan and now i've come to understand.
you should have told me all the lies were true.
and that was all so long ago, maybe about a week or so.
if the one you're holding only knew.

fall back start over, let all the negativity subside.
bad night hung over and everything you said hanging
on me.
hanging on me.

i can't replace the thought of you, sitting there just like you do,
and now you're sitting close with someone else.
i figured out some time ago regardless of the things i know, i'm over it as far as i can tell.
fall back start over, let all the negativity subside.
bad night hung over and everything you said hanging
on me.
had your chance, your time has passed this time i'm not so blinded
