Is it you or me
Or neither one just where we meet
That keeps us together in here
We overlook the obvious
The only thing that's odd is that we rush
To find an antidote and cure what's not real

Long as the sun keeps burning
And all the clouds keep bringing rain
I know that you will be here just living a dream
You're living in a dream

We've been involved too long
And hardly said a word don't tell me nothing's wrong
You're feeling overwhelmed and I'm over feeling

Long as the sun keeps burning
And all the clouds keep bringing rain
I know that you will be here just living a dream
You're living in a dream

You stay up all night and analyze my dreams
Will you pay the price to find out what they mean

Long as the sun keeps burning
And all the clouds keep bringing rain
I know that you will be here just living a dream
You're living in a dream

Long as the sun keeps burning
And all the clouds keep bringing rain in the spring
I know that you will be here just living a dream
You're living in a dream you're living in a dream
