I'd never planned to fall in love; I'd sold it 'round the Stars
But she had that look in her eyes and I had a change of Heart
I tried my best to say goodbye, but every time I'd start She'd get that look in her eyes and I'd have a change of
Heart

I knew that she was changin' me, but I never realized
That I was leanin' on her, dependin' on her, until to my Surprise

One day she found somebody new and tore my world
apart
Now I say a prayer every night that she'll have a change
Of heart

I knew that she was changin' me, but I never realized
That I was leanin' on her, dependin' on her, until to my Surprise

One day she found somebody new and tore my world
apart
Now I say a prayer every night that she'll have a change
Of heart
