You could come out avowed - but you'll never make it out unbowed
You could come out sound - but you'll never make it out unbound

What's beyond the shroud - more than heaven or hell could allow
Something I could live for - count down What's beyond the paces - and the bored and contemptful faces
Something I could die for - countdown

You could come out determined - but you'll never make it out unburdened
You could come out with power - but you'll never make it out from underneath the tower

could allow
What's beyond the paces - and the bored and
contemptful faces
Something I could die for - countdown
