Feels like I just built a million dollar home on the beach
And a wave just came and washed it away
Feels like I just bought a Maybach
With cream leather seats
Only to watch another dude drive it away
It's like that half time ? just before the buzzer goes off
But the ref just said it don't count at all
I know it's my fault if I could rewind

And do it all over again
You'd still be my lady
You know that real shit they talk about
When you're still young and you eavesdrop
