hey, hey.

There's a logical reason,
that I'm sitting here listening to heartbreak songs.
i got a real bad feeling,
pretty soon im gonna look around and you'll be gone.

its giving me a pain deep in my stomach,
cause i know your going.
we ain't gonna last forever.
so when i hear that Mariah song playing,
her pretty voice singing, we belong together.

((CHORUS

i know how it feels; letting you go would be so unreal.
baby, i gotta let you know.

even though your still mine, i already miss ya.
scared for the time, when i cant kiss ya.
its too much for me, too much for me,
too much for me, its too much.

cause when i close my eyes,
i start to feel lonely.
cant take life without my one and only.
its too much for me, too much for me,
too much for me, its too much.))

now there's a chance you'll see me driving around where no particular place to go.
like on the highway speeding,
singing along to my song on the radio.

with the pain deep in my stomach,
cause i know your going.
this was never meant to last.
so when i hear that Usher song playing,
hear his voice singing, you got it, you got it bad.

(CHROUS)

its too much for me to picture you gone, if you walk away my world will turn cold.

its too much to hear you say goodbye,
your still here yeah and im already crying.

its too much for me, too much for me,
too much for me, its too much.

cause when i close my eyes,
its too much for me, too much for me,
too much for me, its too much for me.
