Movin' light, dream machinery, crashin' in through my balcony oh no

I shout down the line but could not get through

Cause the telephone never rings when you want it to

Oh, now you're wide awake in dreamland

Oh, now you're wide awake in dreamland

Words of love take your breath away

Just a game that you like to play oh no

Sleepwalking through a world of pain

Just another pretty face in the romeo rain

Oh, now you're wide awake in dreamland

Oh, now you're wide awake in dreamland

Chemical decisions never turn out like you planned

Now you're wide awake in dreamland

(Solo)

Now you're wide awake in dreamland

You know your paint by number life does not excite you

It's a watercolour world that you're livin' in

And when you close your eyes at night

You're wondering just where you've been

You were young when you heard the call

Saw it all in your crystal ball and chains

A problem child who could pick and choose

When the sandman calls your name you cannot refuse

Oh, now you're wide awake in dreamland

Oh, now you're wide awake in dreamland

Chemical decisions never turn out like you planned

Now you're wide awake in dreamland, in dreamland, in dreamland
