This is the way
That I state my independence
That I'm no longer connected
To your memory

This is the day
That I'm making my defection
That I claim back the affection
That you stole from me

I used to hear your music so loud
But it's so wrong
You're just another face in the crowd
I'm letting you know

No more sad song
I'm letting it go now
Switched off, switched on
I'm letting you know

You turned out the light
I'm gonna be alright without
Turn the radio off
No more sad song

These are the words
To describe all your offenses
You said love in the past tense
And then you let it go

Haven't you heard
You are no longer respected
You are formally rejected
From the one you hurt

I used to have the longing to hear
What was in your heart
But now it seems I'm over the fear
Of this falling apart

No more sad song
I'm letting it go now

Switched off, switched on
I'm letting you know

You turned out the light
I'm gonna be alright without
Turn the radio off
No more sad song
No more sad song

I used to have the longing to hear
What was in your heart
But now it seems I'm over the fear
Of this falling apart

No more sad song
I'm letting it go now
I'm letting you know

No more sad song
I'm letting it go now
I'm letting you know

Turn the radio off
No more sad song
No more sad song

No more sad song
No more sad song
