Every boy dreams of being a man
And there'll come a moment when he'll get the chance
Well, it's not how you live, it ain't how you die
Now a days the real ones are so hard to find

Where are the men with the nerves made of steel
Hearts that are wild and unbroken and real
They say what they mean and they mean what they say
Ride off like heroes after saving the day

So let's all raise our glasses to spirits untamed
Make us all something strong, a double shot of John
Wayne

I've been knocked down a time or two
And this scar on my chin it ain't no tattoo
We might take falls but cowboys don't cry
So get up on your ponies and let's all whip and ride

'Cause we are the men with the nerves made of steel
Hearts that are wild and unbroken and real
We say what we mean and we mean what we say
Ride off like heroes after saving the day

So let's all raise our glasses to spirits untamed
Make us all something strong
A double shot of John Wayne

There's blue collars, white collars but we all bleed red
And what will they say when we're all dead

Where are the men with the nerves made of steel
Hearts that are wild and unbroken and real
They say what they mean and they mean what they say
Ride off like heroes after saving the day

So let's all raise our glasses to spirits untamed
Make us all something strong
A double shot of John Wayne

Yeah, make us all something strong
A double shot of John Wayne
