(Clay Walker)

Solid gold candle holders
And an old bottle of wine
You let your hair down on your shoulders
And you pressed your lips to mine
The rain beat soft against the window
As the night turned into dawn
As I looked deep into your eyes
I knew where my heart belonged

Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love
Girl, youâ€™re all that I can think of
Isnâ€™t my love good enough
Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love

Solid white wedding dress
And a long white veil
We put all our fears to rest
And we let this ship set sail
I placed the ring on your finger
Then you looked at me and smiled
The we sealed our love with one last kiss
And I walked you up the aisle

Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love
Girl, youâ€™re all that I can think of
Isnâ€™t my love good enough
Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love

Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love
Girl, youâ€™re all that I can think of
Isnâ€™t my love good enough
Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love

Iâ€™m ready for the next step in love
