Clawed fingers forcing iron bars, visions of tortured misery.

Semi-human tears of frustrated rage, hunched up in this fuckin' = cage.

My emotions are artificially induced. Though no further need to = feel.

Now I've fabricated steel limbs, electro-pulses throb within.

Man made monster, morbid science.

Deaf to my feeble protests, I've served my purpose.

In my veins life fluid used to flow. Now drained and replaced. =

With sedative substances, to restrain instinctive rage.

Man made monster, morbid science.

Deaf to my feeble protests, I've served my purpose.
