They told me I would never fly
My wings were too small To even
They told me To stop dreaming
My dreams were too long To even believe in

But my eyes are open though To what I can not see
I'm ready to soar again Whispers don't bother me

I want to run To the ocean
I want to fly To the sky (X2)

They told me I was dying
There was no hope and To stop trying

They told me By their actions
That they didn't believe My calling or passion

But my eyes are open though To what I can not see
I'm ready to soar again Whispers don't bother me

I want to run To the ocean
I want to fly To the sky (X2)

I will follow the leader down town, Â...Â...

I want to run
I want to fly (X2)
