Why change anything
When there's nothing to change at all

You got a heart like a promise ring
You've been a real good friend to me
I like to see you laugh out loud
When we're dancing in a crowd

But at times it makes me sad
When I see you holding back
When he walks in the room

What good is a touch if it's not
Touching you at all (At all, at all)

You're who you're supposed to be
It's too bad that you won't see
I'm losing you slowly
Identity crisis
Why would you be living for
His damn approval
The best thing about it all
Is I won't let you down

No, I won't let you down

I know you think he's heaven sent
But my friend you're different
Can't you see he wants control
And I think he'll have it all

I just want you to come back
To the dreams that you once had
Before you lose yourself

What good is a touch if it's not
Touching you at all (At all, at all)

You're who you're supposed to be
It's too bad that you won't see
I'm losing you slowly

Identity crisis
Why would you be living for
His damn approval
The best thing about it all
Is I won't let you down

You're who you're supposed to be (Supposed to be)
It's too bad that you won't see (You won't see)
I'm losing you slowly
Identity crisis
Why would you be living for
His damn approval
The best thing about it all
Is I won't let you down

It's identity crisis
Don't you change 'cause he likes it
Sometimes it's better to walk away
(Sometimes it's better to walk away)

It's identity crisis
Don't you change 'cause he likes it
Sometimes it's better to walk away
(Just walk away)

You are who you're supposed to be
It's too bad that you won't see
I'm losing you slowly
Identity crisis
Why would you be living for (Why)
His damn approval
The best thing about it all (I won't)
Is I won't let you down

You are who you're supposed to be (You are, you are)
It's too bad that you won't see
I'm losing you slowly
Identity crisis
Why would you be living for
His damn approval (Why, why)
The best thing about it all
Is I won't let you down
